CARRANZA AND VILLA TO PARLEY?

Peace Proposals Are Reported by Jose Robles, Reputed Intermediary

El Paso, Tex., June 30.—The possibility of peace being considered soon by leaders of the two larger warring factions in Mexico and the continued search by federal authorities for Felix Diaz, nephew of ex-President Diaz, reported last night to have reached El Paso secretly, were the outstanding features of the Mexican situation here today.

An all night search failed to disclose the whereabouts of Felix Diaz.

Advices to the railroad office headquarters in Juarez stated that General Villa, intrenched at Encarnacion, thirty miles south of Aguascalientes, was engaged in desperate fighting with the Carranza forces under immediate command of Gen. Benjamin Hill.

In a message to Miguel Diaz Lombardo, his foreign minister, General Villa asked him to thank President Wilson for the action of American authorities in approaching Huerta and Orozco.

FARMERS IN TEN STATES BUY 200 AUTOMOBILES A DAY

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published at Springfield, Ohio, a contributor writes an interesting article showing how motor cars affect farm life. In the following extract taken from the article appear some remarkable facts about the use of automobiles by farmers:

"Take the ten states of the Middle West known as the grain belt: Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Missouri, Kansas, South Dakota, North Dakota and Oklahoma. Four years ago these ten States owned 139,000 automobiles, the proportion of farm machines was perhaps one in ten. The number of motor cars in these ten states has quadrupled in the last three years, and more than doubled in the last two years, so that on January 1, 1915, by figures furnished by the various secretaries of state, the number of cars was 559,730. Of this immense total fully one half belong to farmers. The number in the ten states is increasing at the rate of 12,000 machines a month, 425 a day. The average value of these machines was $980."

BETWEEN FRIENDS

MISS GENEVIEVE CLARK MARRIED WEDNESDAY

Daughter of Speaker Clark Married to James M. Thompson at Family Home in Bowling Green

Bowling Green, Mo., June 30.—Miss Genevieve Clark, the 20-year-old daughter of Speaker Champ Clark of the national house of representatives, was married at the home of her parents at 4 o'clock this afternoon to James M. Thomson, editor of the New Orleans Item.

The ceremony took place on the lawn of "Honeyshuck," the Clark home—so called because of the large honey locust trees that adorn the grounds. The bride party stood under a white pergola, built under a honey locust tree and almost hidden in the foliage.

Promptly at 4 o'clock the orchestra concealed in foliage, began the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march and Miss Clark, leaning on her father's arm and preceded by eight ushers, eight maids of honor and by the bridesmaid, walked from the old-fashioned house to the pergola, where she met the bridegroom.

Speaker Clark gave away his daughter and the Episcopal ceremony was read by Rev. Robert S. Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Louisville, Ky.

Never before in the history of the state has there been a wedding like that of the speaker's daughter. A general invitation had been issued to all the people of Missouri, and from all parts of the state they came—some by train, some by carriage and some by automobile. Thousands from this (Pike) county and hundreds from other parts of the state mingled on the lawn with social and political notables from all parts of the union.

This town of 2,000 inhabitants celebrated the event as though it were a royal occasion. From every window a flag was flying, the streets were gay with bunting and the townspeople vied with each other in making the wedding guests—thousands of them—feel welcome.

In scores of homes wedding cakes were baked for the occasion and hundreds of cakes arrived from all parts of the state. Tables were set on the lawn and in the house for the wedding supper.

NEW CROSSINGS

BEING BUILT

The city council has given M. E. Gillioz the contract for building fifteen crossings and driveways on Fourth and Fifth streets. The crossings will be full width and will extend out in to the street in a curve to allow the proper drainage of water. In driving across the streets the ditches now, so hard to cross with vehicles will be eliminated and driving will be smooth. As the property owners build up the side walks and curbing the city will add other crossings and driveways.

LIBERTY

Cutting oats, plowing corn and picking blackberries is the week's routine of work and all who want to work are kept busy.

A number of neighbors and relatives attended David Marshall's funeral at the Baptist church in Monett last Sunday.

Wes Mulkey and wife from Illinois, visited in this neighborhood last week.

Mrs. Sam Anderson, who was hurt in a runaway last week, is not improving as fast as her friends could wish.

Wilson Russell was taken dangerously ill last week, but is out again and we hope he will continue to improve.

Jas. Mulkey and wife spent Sunday afternoon with her brother, Will Miller.

Wit Jenkins and family were guests of R. L. Matthews, Sunday.

Rev. L. A. Smith filled his regular appointment last Sunday morning and evening and delivered strong sermons from texts, "Am I My Brother's Keeper" and "Shall We Continue In Sin." Those who attended were profited and those missing these services were the losers.

Miss Nelle Mayhew of St. Louis, is spending her vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Davis.

W. H. Mulkey of Monett visited his son Joe and attended church, Sunday.

Mrs. Sam McCormick died Sunday of cancer, after a lingering illness. Funeral services were held at Liberty Monday afternoon conducted by Rev. Qualls and the body laid to rest in the cemetery adjoining the church. A large concourse of relatives and friends were in attendance to pay their last tribute of respect to our dear sister who has crossed over and awaits the coming of her companion and son Virgil, and all those who are ready when they receive the summons from on high.

Mrs. Myrt Miller's sister from St. Louis visited her last week.

Remember Sunday school next Sunday at 10 a. m. and discharge your Christian duty by being there to assist it to success and thereby be benefited. Come and bring some one with you.

Master Wesley Beckett of Monett is at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Beckett and we hope the open air and sunlight will restore him to health as he has been in poor health for some weeks.

Mrs. Dol Harvey is on the sick list this week, but her friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. C. C. Russell is the guest of her son, E. R. Russell this week.

Mrs. Shields of Stillwell, Ark., who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walton, remains dangerously ill with no improvement.

Abb Mulkey continues to improve

PASSED OVER

Mrs. Mary McCormac, wife of Sam McCormac, died at her home three and one half miles west of Verona, Sunday, June 27, 1915, aged 46 years, 2 months and 12 days, having been born April 15, 1869.

Mrs. McCormac had been a sufferer from cancer for quite a while. She went to St. Louis for treatment last February and had one arm and shoulder amputated in hopes of saving her life. After spending three months at the hospital she came home much improved but other complications set in and finally on Monday before her death she was stricken with paralysis from which she never rallied.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Qualls at Liberty church after which her remains were laid to rest in the new cemetery near the church, there to await the resurrection.

Mrs. McCormac was a member of the M. P. Church, a consistent Christian, a devoted wife and mother. She was born and lived all her life in the community in which she died and the esteem in which she was held was attested by the immense audience which attended her funeral.

The writer and Mrs. McCormac were schoolmates and her going adds one more to the number that will greet her on the other side where parting will be no more and friendships will never end.

A FRIEND.

The residence of Tom Ketchum two miles south of Peirce City was totally destroyed by fire, Wednesday evening. Mr. Ketchum was spending the evening at the home of a neighbor and returned to find the house and all its contents entirely consumed. As he had left no fire in the stove, it is supposed the house was struck by lightning.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank everyone who so kindly assisted us in the sickness, death and burial of our beloved wife and mother, Mary McCormac.

CITY WELL STANDS SEVERE TEST OF STATE OFFICIAL

New Well Will Furnish 330,000 Gallons of Water Every Twenty-Four Hours.

After making an thorough test of the new city well Prof. T. J. Rodhouse, professor of hydraulic engineering, of the State University, made the following report to the city council:

Columbia, Mo., June 26, 1915

The Honorable Board of Public Works, City of Monett, Mo.,

Sirs:—

The results of the test of the deep well conducted on June 22 and 23 are as follows:

1. Static water level when not pumping 177.03 below top of well.
2. When pumping rate of 19 revolutions minute the water level stood at 248 feet from top, and discharged 175 gallons per minute, or 250,000 gallons per 24 hours.

3. When pumping at 23 R. P. M. the water level stood at 279.03 from the top, and discharge was 210 gallons per minute, or 302,000 gallons per 24 hour day. (A little air at times.)

4. When pumping at 29 R. P. M. the water level stood at 280 feet from top, and discharge was 219 gallons per minute or 315,000 gallons per 24 hours. (Considerable air.)

The bottom of the working barrel of the pump is apparently only 280 feet from the top of the well, as we were not able to pull the water down below this level when pumping at a higher rate of 29 R. P. M. At this speed of the pump the discharge should have been 264 gallons per minute, or 380,000 gallons per 24 hours, and the water level reduced to 318 feet from the top.

To secure a steady discharge of over 300,000 gallons per day without taking any air the working barrel should be lowered to near 300 feet and a speed of 26 R. P. M. should deliver 330,000 gallons per day without taking air.

Kindly advise me if I can be of any further service to you regarding the test made, or if I can be of any assistance in the future progress of the work.

Very respectfully,
T. J. RODHOUSE.

Dr. Copeland, of Freistatt, was in town on business, Wednesday.
